

ZITTY SPEZIAL: „ESSEN UND TRINKEN“

The Engelbecken is and remains one of the best addresses in Berlin. In spite of the relocation of cross mountain in the Lietzensee the most important has remained: the excellent alpenländische kitchen and the exceedingly friendly crew. A delightful Rehgoulasch or the virtually legendary roast pork one cannot let escape. Besides, there are really good beers, how the yeast wheat of small Bavarian brewery Unertl or the Augustinian noble material. And the nicest: Here it is totally renounced Musikberieselung to the meal. A relief!